PLANT STRAWBER-RY BED THIS SUMMER

Continued High Prices Will Make Venture Profitable—Only Small Space Is Needed.

Home strawberry patches which furnished a surplus of berries this year have proved a profitable venture. Berries have continued uniformly high in price and there has been no difficulty to dispose of any surplus.

This is the time to increase the stock and the prospects of big prices for another year or more have turned the attention of many gardners to the advisability of starting strawberry beds for home use. It does not take a very great space to grow enough berries to furnish an average sized family with a fine supply of fresh, luscious berries and ordinarily of finer quality than can be bought in the market.

Directly after the baring season the plants send out many runners, at the tip of each a new plant is borne which will take root and start an independent career. A careful gardener can insure himself a fine crop of plants to increase his beds by seeing that these little plants at the ends coln were villified, declared the Conof the runers find easy rooting lodgment.

Stirring the soil and covering the stem near the plant lightly assists and a very convenient way is to pot up the new plant and grow them along until they have made a good root system and developed into strong plants, when they are ready to be for "an honorable peace." planted out where desired.

Dealers now specialize in pot grown plants for starting beds along in August. Plant a strawberry bed this summer. t is well worth while. It is advisable to start fall beds only the beds should be started in the

They thrive in almost any soil but are at their best in a rich sandy loam or light play loam. The plants should be set not closer than a foot apart in the row and the rows three and a half feet apart.

The plants should have a covering of straw or leaves after the ground has frozen in the late fall.

One of the greatest Democratic speeches ever expounded to the people of Garrard county was that of Congressman Albin W. Barkley, when he spoke at the court house here last Monday afternoon, to a house that taxed the capacity of the building. many standing in the isles throughout the entire two hours consumed n its delivery.

That he made a wonderful impres sion, was evidenced by the prolonged applause that interrupted him several times during the afternoon.

Congressman Barkley was intro duced by J. E. Robinson, chairman of the Democratic County Committee. The outstanding feature of the occasion was the two-hundred or more women that were present. The center isie of the auditorium had been reserved for them but it proved not to be enough space and chairs were placed in each isle for their accomodation

Mr. Barkley's tribute to Woodrow Wilson induced an outburst, of applause that lasted for several minutes.

Life's Close For R. L. Walker.

Although an invalid for the past eleven years and during that time had suffered intensely, the death of Mr. R. L. Walker last Tuesday afternoon at the home of his sister, Mrs. James Burnside, in Richmond, was a distinct shock to his numerous friends here and in adjoining counties.

He was taken desperately ill last done to relieve him, it was of no avail and he passed into the great beyond.

"Bake" Walker was one of the cleverest boys that ever lived and on account of the intense suffering thru which he has passed during the last ten years or more, we feel that death must have been a relief to him.

For the past year or more has made his home here, being a brother of Mrs. Ben Hudson and Mrs. Owen Rigney. He was also a brother of Mr. J. B. Walker of Richmond, Mrs. D. D. Geiger of Huntington, W. Va., Jennie Cotton, of Cedar Springs, N. C. He leaves no immediate family, his wife, who was formerly a Miss Steele, of Jessamine, preceding him in death several years ago.

Mr. Walker was a devout member of the Presbyterian church. His remains were brought to Lancaster. Wednesday afternoon and taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Rigney at which place the funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at three o'clock by his former pastor. Rev. J. J. Martin, of Nicholasville. By his own request his remains will be buried in the Lancaster Cemetery.

Teachers in the public schools of Garrard county should watch their step, otherwise their cortificates will be revoked and they will be barred from teaching. According to the ruling which has just been received by Supt. Miss Jennie Higgins, all public schools and high school teachers must attend every session of the Institute otherwise their certificates are automatically revoked and the said teachers prohibited from teaching in any public school in Kentucky. Heretofore, teachers have been in the habit of missing about half of the sessions of the Institute. The Boyle and Garrard County Institutes will be held in joint session in the chapel of the Danville High School building beginning September 6th. Prof. Joseph has been engaged as conductor.

- According to the interpretation of the new law a diploma from Junior colleges of which the Kentucky College for Women is one, does not entitle the holder to teach in any public school of the state without taking the examination and securing a certificate. Graduates of Centre College, full four years, are entitled to teach in public schools without the examination.

AUTUMN IS CLEARING TIME FOR FARM LAND

Convert All Waste Places Into Revenue Producers.

Goats, Sheep or Gattle Are Favored in Order Named for Keeping Down Sprout Growth-Methods for Removing Stumps.

The fair-weather days of the autumn afford the farmer an opportunity to undertake the clearing of land for which he has no time in the busy summer months, and which can not be done while the land is wet in the spring. On thousands of farms there spring. On thousands of farms there are cut-over tracts which should be converted into revenue producers as soon as possible. If the owner decides that the land in question is better suited to crop production than to forest growth, a careful study of the most economical method of removing stumps and small growth should be made. Most cut-over land passes through three stages before reaching its greatest agricultural value. The waste and small growth is disposed of first, then it is allowed to remain in stumps for a few seasons, until the smaller stumps are dead and decayed. during which time it is used for pasture or may be cultivated. Finally, all the stumps are removed.

Generally it is best to cut brush as close as possible to the ground and avoid leaving sharp points that might injure stock. However, if the wood is of no value and the ground is not to of no value and the ground is not to be cultivated before the stumps are removed, it may be best to cut the removed, it may be best to cut the trees rather high above the ground. If the stumps are left three feet high there will be less sprouting than if cut low down, and such stumps are more easily pulled. easily pulled.

The most successful method of keeping down sprout growth is by heavy pasturing by goats, sheep, or cattle, in the order named. Any sprouts not killed by pasturing should be cut or knocked off with the head of an ax.

There are a great variety of methods used in removing stumps, by means of burning, pullers and dynamite, Farmers' Bulletin 974, "Clearing Land,"-prepared by the United States department of agriculture, contains information designed especially for persons interested in this subject. A copy

One of the Best Ways to Get Moisture and Well-Packed Soil Is by Disking and Rolling.

Fall seeding of alfalfa requires moisture and a soil which is well pack-One of the best ways of getting such a condition is to disk the ground as soon as oats or small grain is taken off, then plow it and pack it thorough ly by harrowing it or rolling. Much of the so-called potato blight which is to be found is due to what is really tip-burn, or it may be due to : small insect known as the leaf-hopper. The tip-burn is caused by the dry weather and extreme heat as the sun and wind draw the water from the plant faster than the roots can supply it from the ground. The leaf-hopper is a small, greenist-like insect, which will be found jumping from one plant to another as the plants are moved.

ELIMINATE ALL POOR LAMBS

Carcasses of Improperly Finished Animals Do Not Find Ready Sale on Market.

Just why the latter part of August and early part of September invariably demoralizes the lamb market has puzzled market students for many years. A large percentage of lambs eming out of Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohlo, Indiana, and Iowa are small native animals that have to be sold for what they will realize. These lambs coming on a usually congested market sell for a marked reduction and since the consumption of lamb is limited in certain sections of the country, carcasses from these improp erly finished lambs do not find a ready sale. This annual occurrence in this section not only penalizes the growers of good lambs but means a loss to the producers of the inferior kinds. Since the product is inferior it has a tendency to prejudice consumers against Farmers in the corn belt states surrounding the Chicago market are advised by United States department of agriculture specialists to make a concerted effort to put their lambs in bet ter market condition. It is though certain that most of those who were responsible for this year's native lambs could have put them in much better market condition, with good profit to themselves. It is regrettable that so large a number of undocked and uncastrated, poorly finished, scrubbred lambs fill the markets from these sections. .

The man who keeps a small flock on the farm is advised to remember the importance of handling sheep wisely The ewes should be bred early enough in the fall so that they will produce lamb's should be docked and castrated when they are ten days old. They should receive sufficient feed to keep them growing in order that when they are ready for the market in about four months they should weigh from Many Farmers Hesitate to Start With Pure-Bred Animals Because of Lack of Knowledge.

Many farmers would like to raise registered cattle, but because of their lack of knowledge of pedigrees or individuality, or both, hesitate to start with pure-bred animals. A safe way to start is to buy a few bred cows or heifers and grow in experience as the herd increases in numbers.

"The pinto bean growers of this state have earned $$2,000 in additional profits from their 1919 crop through their co-operative marketing association initiated by specialists of the bureau of markets. United States department of agriculture," was the recent statement made by a New Mexco pinto bean grower.

Before the association was formed the beans were purchased by local buyers who practically controlled the market and therefore paid almost any price they chose. These buyers were rapidly destroying the possibilities that offered in the marketing of pinto beans through the lack of care in grading and packing. #### SHEEP REQUIRE PURE WATER

Regular Daily Supply is Important in Winter as Well as Summer for Best Results.

Some farmers seem to think that sheep do not need water and will do just as well without it. Although not heavy drinkers, sheep certainly need a regular daily supply of water in winter as well as in summer. If they cannot get clean water they will find dirty water, or in winter, will eat

Experienced sheep men see to it that water for sheep is always and easily accessible. The best of feeding with hay and grain is useless without water. The body suffers without water, the appetite is lessened and a poor, run down animal is the result. Besides water, the sheep need salt, All these things are necessary to keep sheep in good condition.

SYSTEMS OF FEEDING FOWLS

Danger of Bowel Trouble Lessened Where "Dry" Plan Is Used-Also Saves Labor.

There are two systems in use for the feeding of fowls, in one of which all the feed is given dry and in the other of which one or more of the daily feeds consists of a moistened mash. For convenience they may be termed the "dry-feed" and the "mash" systems, although in the dry-feed system a dry mash is often fed. Dry feeding is used by many where it is not convenient to make and feed a moistened mash. The greatest advantages to be derived from the dry system are the saving of labor and the lessened danger of bowel trouble resulting from sloppy or soured mashes.

PROPER TIME TO CUT WHEAT

When Straw Has Lost Nearly All of Green Color and Grains Are Not Entirely Hard.

Wheat may be cut with safety when the straw has lost nearly all its green color and the grains are not entirely hardened. If cut sooner than this shriveled kernels will result. If left standing until fully ripe a bleached appearance, due to the action of the elements, often results, and loss from shattering may ensue. Wheat that is fully ripe is also more difficult to handle. Where the area of wheat is large, cutting should begin as early as it can be done safely.—Farmers' Bulletin 885. "Fire! Telephone the hose company!"

There were no flames in the kitchen, but the chimney was belching forth flames and cinders and the shingles on the roof were smoking. Nancy began excitedly moving her best parlor furniture to the front porch. Then as the fire engine dashed into the yard and the hose was unrolled, she started for the kitchen and reached its open rear door in time to receive a broad, flushing deluge of water that drove her back, soaked from heat to foot.

"Hi! play on the chimney and roof -that's where the fire is," came a stentorian command through the brass trumpet of the fire chief.

"That's it! All out!" announced the pipeman a minute later. Just then Seth dashed up.

"Where's Nance-is she safe?" he panted, and his chilled, half fainting helpmeet, clinging to the towel rack to recover from the shock of her bath, felt her heart warm at the anxious, loving tones,

"You dear!" shouted Seth, clasping her in his arms, a veritable dripping rag as to attire, streaked of face, her plastered down like wet moss, and he clung to her as if he would never let go.

"It's retribution!" sobbed the perftent Nancy.

"It's the luck of the world that you are unhurt and safe," exulted Seth. giving her another hug. "I'll take the afternoon off getting things to rights. Then we'll spend a pleasant evening on the porch listening to the music of the phonograph that will be here this afternoon. And when it plays That Old Sweetheart of Mine," we'll just kiss and make up like the fond foolish children that we are, won't Nancy, dear!"

Philosophy of a Cipher.

Consider the cipher. It amounts to nothing in itself, but when put at work with others behind a good strong figure it adds wonderfully to the value of the group. But if a cipher puts on airs and gets out in front of the procession, it becomes valueless again. Men might take a lesson and learn that their value lasts only as long as they stay on the job.

The letter M can be seen in the lapel representing the initial letter of the general's name.

The great deeds of the world, the triumphs of the race, have not been accomplished by men who were content merely to hold their own or "just to get along," but by men who were dominated by their purpose, filled with an overmastering enthusiasm which swept everything before it as a mountain torrent sweeps aside or overleaps every obstacle that would bar its progress in its mad rush to the sea .- New Success.

The fiber of pea-pods is separated for industrial use in a process covered by a recent patent. The outer layer is dissolved away by fermentation or by treatment with hot water or steam, the inner fibrous layer being left in a form sciapted for spinning or utilization in other ways. The solution of the outer layer, containing sugar, is not necessarily a waste, as it can be made to serve some such purposes as preparing marmalade.

Put Romance Before Truth.

Inaccuracies in history and anecdotes with no foundation of fact may be blamed on some of the older historians. The men who first wrote of Colonial and Revolutionary times often tried to make their accounts romantic and picturesque by revising history to suit themselves, because they did not see that the real facts were more tomantic than their embellishments could make them. Our histories, paintings, poetry and traditions are still influenced by their work.

Then and Now.

Women in the home used to be ashamed to sit down; there seemed to be a virtue in wearing themselves out! The housekeeper who saved herself, who did not dust every few mom scrub on her hands and knees and do such tasks, was called lazy. The be lef now is that the most intelligent housekeeper, the one who studies every new invention and saves every step and motion, is the most conscien-tious and sensible one. Sit down to vegetable paring and all tasks where it is practicable. BREEDING MALE Cockerels Can Be Bought More Advantageously Now Than Later in Season.

SEEK HIGH EGG PRODUCTION

Year Is Excellent-Trapnest Record of Mother Should Always Be Insisted On.

Progressive poultrymen are already oking forward to the mating of their flocks next spring. Cockerels which have been hatched this spring are ow available for sale on many farms for breeders. They may be bought more cheaply now than they can be late this fall. A breeding male that will command from $5 to $10 in November may be purchased now for about $3.

Head of Breeding Flock.

In purchasing cockerels one should insist that an exact pedigree be given on delivery of the bird, says O. W. Harvey of the University of Missouri college of agriculture. It is believed that the male bird is more important than the female in transmitting the character of high egg production. Not all male birds transmit the character. Ordinarily, a ben which lays 30 eggs or more during the winter season of November, December, January and February, will by approximately 200 eggs a year. Of course, some environmental factor, such as a late spring. which we have been having this year, may affect the summer laying cycle, and thus reduce the production of the hen to a figure below 200, even though the winter cycle has been 30 eggs or The fact remains, neverthemore. ess that with our present knowledge of breeding poultry for egg production ockerels from hens that have exhibited this 30-egg production during the winter laying cycle are the ones to buy to head the breeding flock.

Secure Trapnest Record.

It is but a small proportion of the flock that lays 200 eggs or more during the year. The day of the 200 egg flock has not yet been attained. Poultrymen must not be misled by advertisements that have been appearing in the poultry papers by large fanciers offering birds for sale which have exceptional fancy points and at the same time are claimed to be from a 200-egg strain. A flock average of 150 to 160 eggs a year is excellent production. Of course there are exceptional individuals in every flock. Approximately ten per cent of the White Leghorn pullets on the University of Missouri poultry farm show a trappest record of more than 200 eggs a year. It is this small proportion of the flock that is used in pedigree breeding. Cockerels from this selected number are the ones that are believed to transmit the character of high egg production. If the farmer buys a cockerel without securing a trapnest record of its mother's pullet-year production he has no means whatever of knowing whethor the bird can transmit the ability for a 30-egg production during the winter season, in other words, 200egg daughters, or whether he will transmit an ability for producing no eggs at all during the winter season when eggs are highest in price. A trapnest record which shows that the mother of the cockerel has laid 30 eggs from November to March inclusive should always be insisted upon when purchasing new male birds for breeding. To buy on any other basis is a very uncertain procedure, and the chances are less than half for increasing, even in a small degree, the general flock average.

Candle Your Eggs

My dear Editor :-

Complaints have reached this board writing. that the regulations of the State Board of Health in regard to the candling of eggs from May 15th. to January 15th. of each year are not being observed.

It was estimated in 1917 that 10. 015,000 cases of eggs were lost as food due to rotting and improper handling. This meant a financial loss of over $100,000,000. #### Is Sanity Returning

In one of our large cities there is a manufacturer who employs numerous traveling men who penetrate every nook and corner of the country. These men are instructed, in addition to the sale of goods, to keep their fingers constantly upon the pulse of the people and report to the home

This manufacturer is firmly of the opinion that the country has about recovered from its delirium of commercial and financial insanity and is on the return to normal conditions and stability. The public has ceased to buy with such extravagant abandon, confining itself to the purchase of such articles as are legitimately required.

This has curtailed the demand. with the result that thousands of employees have laid off, and others will follow

Most of these men spent their money as easily as it was earned. and it is only a question of time when they will be forced to accept other employment at reduced compensa-

This, thinks the manufacturer, marks the beginning of a downward trend in the cost of labor, with a consequent decline in the price of the finished products.

He thinks the decline will be slow and gradual in all lines, but effective, and he does not look for a panic or any other great disturbance of our ommercial and financial systems.

best lot for a business house in Lancaster. Some of you business men who have been renting get busy. Some of you who have been loaning your money at six per cent buy this lot, build on it and make twenty-five per cent on your investment.

NO. 2. A SPLENDID BUILDING

lot fronting on Paulding Street. This is the lot purchased by Kinnaird Brothers from Mrs. Hamilton, but it was too good a lot to put a garage on. Frontage on Paulding Street of 56 feet, with depth of 120 feet. Splendid for a dwelling, business house or apartment house.

NO. 3. THE LACKEY PROPERTY on corner of Danville Street and Paulding Street A brick residence of five rooms, hall and basement. Also several good building lots. A dandy place for an apartment house or to build several bungalows, or buy it all and have the most desirable building lot in town.

NO. 4. THAT SPLENDID DWELL-

ING of A. F. Sanders on Danville street; on the North side of the Street. A new 10 room dwelling. 2 stories, 2 halls, 2 porches, hot water furnace, electric lights, bath and toilet, double garage, wood shed, coal house, stock barn and large lot, with good garden, nice front yard ,concrete walks, alley in the rear of the lot. This is one which will bear close inspection. Modern and up to date in every particular. The dwelling is built of the very best of lumber. Don't fail to look this one over before sale date.

NO. 5. ANOTHER SPLENDID dwelling on Danville Street. That handsome home of Jones L. Anderson. Just outside the city limits; all the advantages of the City without town taxes. This is new property, modern and up to date.

10 rooms, bath room, basement, water works, electric lights, hot water heat, 2 halls, concrete porches, servant's house in yard garage, poultry houses and yards, barn and splendid garden, one acre of land.

NO. 6. HOUSE AND LOT OF

Henry Moore, on Crab Orchard Street. This is a brand new, up to date, 8 room dwelling, bath room, pantry, 3 porches and splendid enclosed sleeping porch, electric lights, water works, double garage and other out buildings. 85 ft. frontage, 200 feet depth. On the South side of the street. This is a beautiful place to live and a splendid home. Be sure to examine this one carefully. Here is a bargain for somebody.

NO. 7. TWO HOUSES AND LOTS for Dr. Printus Walker, both located on Campbell Street. One a lot 42x210 feet, with 6 room dwelling, 3 porches, 2 pantries, basement; barn. The other a lot 50 x210 feet, 6 room dwelling, hall, 2 porches, barn; meat house. This property is located right up in town convenient, and no matter what it brings on sale day is bound to increase in value.

We are not attempting to go into complete details in description of these different properties, but we ask you to look them over carefully as the bidders fix the price.

NO. 8. HERE IS A GOOD ONE.

Modern and up to date in every particular. Located on one of the most desirable residence streets in Lancaster. On the South side of Richmond Street. The property of Mrs. Lula C. Johnson. On a splendid lot, 9 room dwelling, hardwood floors, enclosed concrete porch with cistern in porch, bath room, furnace, front porch, concrete garage, electric lights and water works, a splendid garden. Mrs. Johnson now lives in Woodford County and she has directed us to sell this property. It is too good to rent out. Had not Mrs. Johnson moved away this property could not have been purchased at any price. Now somebody else will own it and perhaps at a bargain. Seldom one like this for sale.

NO. 9. IF YOU WANT A HOME

just out side of the City limits with enough land to make a living and money besides look over this property of J. W. Speake. 15½ acres, one mile from the City limits on New Danvile pike. A brand new six room two story dwelling, two porches, cistern, garage, new tobacco barn. 7 acres in grass, balance in cultivation. Good cistern and plenty of stock water. This is first class fertile land. Here is your chance to get a nice home close to town. Look it over.

All of this property will be sold on easy terms and for possession some of it at once or for January 1, 1921, just to suit the purchaser. Terms and particulars as to possession will be announced at the sale.

RAISE FEED FOR LIVE STOCK

Second in Importance Only to That of Producing Food Necessary for Use by Family.

The production of enough feed for its family live stock, work stock, and ommercial live stock is second in importance only to producing food for the family, in the opinion of the United States department of agriculture, management studies in the profitable farms not only produce the necessary farm feeds but have a surplus of them to sell, and that the live a surplus than on farms where staple eeds are bought. These facts are formulated by the department of agriculture to show whether or not s farm is being efficiently managed.

The average farm family, made up nance 2 cows, 40 fowls for furnish ing eggs and poultry meat, and 1 pig for each adult person or his equivalent. Enough calves should be raised to replace each cow reaching the age of S years. This family live stock, it is calculated, will require corn, 40 bushels of oats, 4,200 pounds of cowpea hay, 2,100 pounds of out hay, 4,200 pounds of corn roughage, green forage from 2 acres and 5 acres of pasture or their equivalent. A fair provision to a head for work stock is 60 bushels of corn, 40 bushels of onts, and 3 tons of roughage. The arrangement of crops and pastures to meet these requirements are suggested in United States department of agriculture circular No. 83, "Testing Farms in the South for Efficiency in Management."

VALUE OF HORSES ON FARM

Total Estimated at $1,993,000,000, or Just a Little Below Figures

Even though it may be true that the motor-driven vehicle has begun to put the farm horse "on the run." there is no evidence that he has de veloped much speed, and his total value still compares favorably with other classes of farm animals. On January 1, 1920, the bureau of crop estimates of the United States department of agriculture estimated the total vifue of horses on farms in this country at $1,993,000,000, or just a little below the value of milk cows, which was $2,022,000,000.

Fattening Pigs Will Not Suffer From Heat If Given Plenty of Water and Ample Shade.

Fattening pigs require some atten tion in hot weather, but usually pigs weighing 100 to 150 pounds or more will not suffer from the heat or die if given plenty of cool water and protection from the sun. A concrete hog wallow is quite sanitary and if built in the overflow from a spring it keeps clear with the inflow of clean water. On hot days pigs will lie on the concrete feeding floor in the hog barn dur ing the heat of the day and forage in the rape during the cool of the morn-

Popular Belief Substantiated That Young Mothers Produce Smaller Pigs-Variation in Length of Germination Period.

A careful study of records relating to the birth of 720 litters of pigs at the University of Illinois reveals many sidelights for those interested in hog raising. The 720 litters contained 5,840 pigs of seven distinct breeds, The fellowing conclusions are drawn in bulletin No. 226 of the University of Illinois agricultural experiment sta-

On the whole, the belief that young sows produce smaller pigs than do older sows is substantiated. Likewise the data substantiated popular belief that up to a certain age, about three years, there is an increase in the size of litter as sows grow older.

The older sows farrowed 12.3 per cent of dead or immature pigs as compared to 8.1 per cent by the younger

It is doubtful whether there are any variations in farrow attributable to the season at which pigs are farrowed. Increase in Litter.

In succeeding litters from the same sow there was an increase in number of pigs per litter and in the weight of individual pigs until the fourth litter, at which time the sows were threeand one-half years old.

The records obtained from 549 lit ters showed a wide range, 98 to 124 days, in the length of gestation period, with an average of 114.58 days. However, 93.6 per cent of the litters were

PROVIDE GOOD GREEN FEED

Unoccupied Space in Garden Should Be Seeded to Rapid Growing Crop of Some Kind.

The average poultry keeper is always short of succulent green feed during the late summer and early fall, and provision should be made for a supply. Two Crops Are First Cousins But Decidedly Different in Making Their Growths.

Cut alfalfa when the buds of the second growth begin to show at the crowns of the plants. Cut sweet clover when the blossoms are about half out and raise the sickle bar at least four inches. These two crops are first cousins but they are decidedly different in this respect: Alfulfa shoots from a crown; sweet clover shoots from buds on the main stem.

The following directions for cannin! greens are given by the United States department of agriculture

Can greens the day they are picked. Sort thoroughly, wash until clean and cheesecloth. Blanch in live steam for 15 minutes. Remove the greens, place in a freshly scalded pan and cut into convenient lengths. Pack into hot jars which have been boiled 15 minutes and add boiling salt water, using one tablespoonful salt to one quart water. Put bolled rubbers on the jars, then the boiled tops and partially seal the jars. If a steam-pressure cooker is used, process for 40 minutes under ten-pound pressure. If a hot-water bath canner is used, place the jars on a false bottom in a commercial canner or a washboiler with sufficient water to cover. Process for three hours, timing after the water starts to boil. Remove and seal tight immediately. Cool in a place free from drafts, test for leaks and store in a cool, dry

The addition of a small amount of vinegar to vegetables which are being anned apparently tends to increase their keeping qualities. Not enough is added, however, to be very noticeable to most people.

HE women should certainly be thankful for the automobile. It has given them a chance to see a lot more of their husbands.

But it has done a great. deal more than that.

It has brought people closer together, given them new interests, swept away old prejudices.

What affects one man now generally affects a good many of his neighbors in the same way. And they have a better chance to get together and talk things over.

It's had its effect on the tire business.

When automobiles were new people were willing to buy any kind of a tire. Now they're beginning to insist on knowing what they are getting.

And the more they insist, the better it will be for us.

We want our customers to know what they are getting.

That's why we represent U. S. Tires-so there will be no doubt about it.

Whatever the size of your car, you know that the U. E. Tire you put on it is the best kind of tire its makers know how to make.

Federal and State Authorities Have 537,240 Head Under Supervision in Many Sections.

From time to time the bureau of animal industry publishes a "com munique" showing conditions along the Lexington 7:25 A. M. Ar. Cincin- wide battle front where the allied forces of federal and state authorities are fighting cattle tuberculosis.

> The latest report indicates that since the beginning of the movement in 1917 the owners of 500,000 cattle have placed their herds under supervision. On April 1, 1920, 25,793 herds scattered throughout the United States. with a total of 537,240 cattle, were under the co-operative supervision of the department of agriculture and state veterinarians. There were 2.-230 accredited herds-60,237 cattle known to be free from the plague.

Over 115,000 cattle were on the wait ing list to be tested as soon as the veterinarians can work with them Still another lot of 258,331 cattle have passed through the first stage of the test without showing any dangerous symptoms. The least optimistic mate indicates that two-thirds of this number will conclude the test satisfactorily, and add 170,000 cattle to the accredited column.

HAMM HAS PUREBREDS ONLY

South Dakota Farmer Asks Enroll ment in "Better Sires-Better Stock" Movement.

Declaring that not only all his sires but likewise all his female breeding animals were purebred, Charles P. Hamm, a South Dakota farmer, applied for enrollment in the "Better Sires-Better Stock" campaign conducted by the United States department of agriculture in co-operation with state agencies. He is a breeder of Shorthorn cattle, Percheron horses, Duroc Jersey hogs, Rhode Island Red chickens, and Bourbon Red turkeys.

The better-sires movement is aimed particularly at the use of superior purebred sires, but the majority of those enrolled also keep some female stock. Mr. Hamm, however, is the first person officially listed as keeping five classes of live stock in which all the animals-both male and femaleare purebred.

GRAIN FOR HOGS ON PASTURE

Full Feed Is Not Economical Where Grass Is Plentiful-Some Protein Feed Favored.

Hogs on pasture require grain for greatest profit in pork production, but a full feed is not economical when pas ture is plentiful and grain high-priced. When corn alone is fed a limited ration is considerably cheaper because the forage crop takes the place of much of the grain.

Some protein feed, such as tankage or skim milk, is recommended to be fed in small quantity along with corn and pasture to pigs weighing less than 100 pounds. Pork production is usually too expensive when such feeds are given to large hogs, especially if they are on such pasture as alfalfa, clover, rape or soy beans, all of which are high in protein.

INDIANS FAVOR IMPROVEMENT

The Indians have signified their support of the "Better Sires-Better Stock" movement. The United States department of agriculture is co-operating in supplying the Indians with literature dealing with live-stock improvement.

ACRES OF THE FINEST BLUE GRASS LANDSEVER OFFERED AT PUBLIC SALE IN BOYLE COUNTY.

WE WILL SELL AT PUBIC OUTCRY ON THE PREMISES ON

TUESDAY, AUGUST 31st, 1920

AT 10 A. M. SHARP

The finest Blue grass Farm belonging to VanSickle sisters, located five miles West of you so?" exclaimed Elsa. Danville just off the Danville and Perryville Pike. This farm contains 400 acres, 156 acres of crops come in, and John Devon, the it known as the Nick Harding place, the other 244 acres known as the VanSickle place. Three hundred acres of this farm is in Blue Grass or Clover. This farm has been sub-divided and will be sold in three tracts namely:

Tract No. 1—Contains 156 acres. Improvements consist of a large two story residence with eight rooms. Good stock barn and all necessary out buildings; well watered with two forgive me if anything happened to fine wells, one with a wind mill attached.

Tract No. 2-Contains 144 acres; improvements consisting of a brick residence with seven rooms, and good stock barn; two never failing wells, with windmill attached to one. it clanked to the ground Victor eyel This is very, very rich land as fine as the famous Gentry Land.

Tract No. 3-Contains 100 acres of choice Blue Grass land, well watered, but has no improvements.

GENERAL DESCRPTION

This land is beautifully located, lying in one of the most famous farming sections in convey Victor to his farm, ten miles Kentucky. There is not an acre in this entire tract that you cannot run a tractor over. In distant. Absorbed in pleading for the other words, you might call it an ideal tractor farm. There has never been raised on this land a crop of tobacco although every acre of it will grow the finest tobacco that can be produced in this section. This is one of the best fenced farms in Boyle County. In fact words cannot convey or give a proper idea of this splendid land. A Self

They made a pathetic and sorrowful picture, Eisa Danforth and a Great Dane dog, Victor. She sat on the grass her arms around the shaggy head, rocking it to and fro and sobbing as if her heart would break. The intelligent animal bent his affectionate gaze upon her with wistful, troubled eves as though striving to comprehend the grief of his fair young mistress.

"Oh, father, has it got to be?" mur mured the young girl brokenly.

"Yes, farmer Robins wants a dog to watch his melon patch and the orchard, and he will take the very best of care of Victor. He can afford to keep the animal. We can't. I'm sorry, Elsa, but with meat at forty cents a pound Victor would have to go hun-

"Why, father, what has straightened

"I am always short of cash till the banker, called me on a note unexpectedly. It was a mean turn to serve an old-time client, but I managed to meet the demand. Robins will be here soon. I'll get a chain for Victor."

"But I promised Alvin to care for dear old Victor as if he was our own,"

Abel Danforth went to the stable and brought back a dog chain. As it askance.

"He seems to know we are plotting against him," choked up Eisa.

"Oh, there is Mr. Robins now," and father and daughter went towards the road to greet the visitor who was to tenderest care for Victor his mistress occupied several minutes. When her father turned to hand over the animal. Victor had disappeared. The light of hope came into Elsa's eyes as she said:

"The poor fellow knows we were

Farmer Robins delayed a home return to the limit, "I'll be this way day after tomorrow," he finally advised, "and you'd better have him chained up and ready."

Elsa was relieved at even a temporary respite for Victor. Then as the farmer's wagon rattled away she burst into an exultant and ecstatic laugh. Her father, following the direction of her glance, saw what she saw-the head of wise, cautious Victor poked from the door of the havloft, looking this way and that for the enemy he had instinctively rec ognized in Farmer Robins.

Alvin Marsh was the owner of Victor and was the accepted lover of Elsa Danforth. A month previous they had postponed their intended marriage, while he went to the far South on account of some legal wrangle as to some property his uncle had left him. Its securement meant a good deal to the engaged pair, for Alvin had counted on trading it for a little me. He had left Victor in charge of Elsa. Sparse crops necessitated strict economy with her father. Victor was a big eater and choice as to the kind of food he ate and his keep really meant a charge the Danforths could not very well meet.

The intelligent animal frisked about Elsa as if like herself appreciating the postponement of his banishment. hour before dusk he disappeared in the direction of the town. Elsa was looking for him quite anxiously an hour later, when he reappeared carrying between his jaws a clean bone with fresh raw meat adhering to it. He looked up into Elsa's face as if dicating that he had realized that he was a burden on the family, and would not tax their larder supply as long as there were meat shops in the town.

The next day, twice during its pass ing hours Victor disappeared and reappeared with a very fair meat supply. What with this and some bread and milk he seemed fed comfortably and Mr. Danforth said:

"You feel so bad about parting with Victor, Elsa, that we'll put Robins off as long as the animal can supply the bulk of his own provender. "Oh! heard the news? Some sharp fellows meaked a lot of money and securities from Devon's office today while he was away at lunch."

In that same circumstance Victor played a fateful part. He of course was never able to put it in words, but t was figured out afterwards by imaginative human minds. Rambling about the morning after the robbery. Victor had come upon the two men in the woods who had committed the crime. They were discussing a meal of bread and ham, and had placed beside them a wallet holding some money and a package containing over fifty Liberty bonds they had secured at the Devon office. The latter was done up in newspaper that had come in contact with that holding the greasy ham. Victor scented sure food within, snatched up the package between his teeth and half an hour later was tearing it open in the home yard when Elsa discovered its contents.

It was only natural that John Devon should pay a reward for the receiving of the bulk of his stolen possessions. Victor was not sent away, the lack of money was tided over. Alvin Marsh returned successful in his mission, and happiness and plenty smiled upon the happy group, includ-ing clever, loyal Victor.
